Advanced web protection from today's threats

Our advanced web protection engine intelligently scans web content and blocks the latest zero-day web threats using a variety of advanced techniques—and not just for HTTP and HTTPS traffic, but other types of network traffic as well. And you don't need to worry about slowing users down. Our global network of data centers ensures your web traffic is analyzed quickly and transparently without any noticeable latency.

Big-data, cloud-powered reporting

With Sophos Web Gateway you get big-data reporting without the need for onsite servers or management overhead. Take advantage of unrivaled insight into network analytics, applications and threats in order to keep your sensitive data safe, control costs and comply with regulations.

Effortless to deploy, simple to manage

Sophos Central sets the standard for how IT security should be managed—simply and effectively. Sophos Central brings endpoint, mobile, server, email, and web security together in a single, truly integrated management console—a first in the industry. You'll be up and running in a matter of minutes with Sophos Web Gateway. And you'll be able to effortlessly expand your cloud-managed security any time you want.

Simple but powerful policy control

Sophos Central was built from the ground up, making powerful policy settings easy and intuitive. You get all the tools you need to easily customize policies to meet compliance obligations, manage productivity, optimize bandwidth, control applications, protect data and keep your users and organization safe online.

Reliable enforcement on the go

Don't entrust enforcement to just anyone. At Sophos, mobile device management and endpoints are part of our DNA. Whether your users have a PC, Mac, iPad, iPhone, or Chromebook, you can be confident policy is being enforced 24/7. Enforcement is all thanks to an integrated agent with sophisticated tamper protection safeguards that even keep rogue users compliant.
